Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-7, 10-13, 15-23 drawn to methods for prevention of insulin-dependent diabetes, classified in class 514, subclass 310.
- II. Claims 8-9, drawn to methods of inhibiting allograft rejection, classified in class 514, subclass 310+.
- III. Claims 14, drawn to compounds with COX-2 or Repressor of NF-kB activity, classified in class 514, subclass 165+.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I or II and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case, inhibitors of COX-2 activity such as aspirin, celecoxib and ibuprofen can be used to treat pain.

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different function, and different clinical effects. Further, there is no indication that they are capable of being used together.

Art Unit: 1617

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Claims 1-23 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising (a) various clinical endpoint, such as prevention of insulin-dependent diabetes, prevention or treatment of diabetic complications, (b) various COX-2 inhibitor, (c) various repressor of NF-kB activation. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed. Accordingly, for one clinical endpoint, and one COX-2 inhibitor or one repressor of NF-kB activation must be elected.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

A telephone call was made to Daniel Hodgins on September 29, 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1617

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
